

COMING UP ROSES: Bernard Chapman, Harlow's longest trader, said he was happy with plans to develop the town

JAILED: Jomardi McPherson ran from police after being caught

Man made deliveries of drugs in mum's car

A MAN who ran from police after being found with drugs in Harlow has been jailed for three years and seven months.

Jomardi McPherson, 22, of Appledwood Drive, Plaistow, even used his mum's car to deliver narcotics from London.

He was sentenced at Chelmsford Crown Court on Thursday, February 16 for possession with intent to supply drugs and breaching a suspended prison sentence.

The court heard that he ran away from police officers who attempted to question him on November 16 last year but was caught in Bush Fair and found to be in possession of 1.7 grams of heroin, one gram of cocaine and one gram of cannabis.

For this he received two years and one month in prison.

Sentence

McPherson also received a one year and six month sentence for breaching a two-year suspended sentence for possession with intent to supply class A drugs.

The sentences will run consecutively.

Detective Constable Jake Etheridge, investigating officer, said: "McPherson has shown no remorse for his actions and no disregard for his actions and his suspended prison sentence.

"He was tempted by money made by selling drugs on Harlow's streets and even went as far as using his own mother's car to deliver drugs from London.

"McPherson tried running away from police and the law but justice caught up with him in the end."

Town is improving but work is needed

Longest-serving trader says centre getting better after slamming it

By William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HARLOW'S longest-serving trader says the town centre is making progress, two years after he called for urgent action to save it.

Since florist Bernard Chapman said "something needs to be done to prevent the town from becoming even more of a disaster area" in 2015, substantial investment has been pledged.

A cinema has opened, shops have arrived and a plan has been proposed to build 400 properties above revamped units in Broad Walk, East Gate and West Gate.

But in the same time leading shops such as BHS and Monsoon have closed and the town centre Post Office has been threatened with relocation.

Mr Chapman, 81, whose business Bernard Chapman LTD now trades in Broad Walk after moving from West Gate, said: "They are trying to do something."

Commuters

"I think in ten years Harlow will improve dramatically. With more housing around Harlow there will be more commuters willing to spend money in the town.

"It is a bit late for me but the town is moving forward."

The florist said he is in favour of plans announced last year by developer Addington Capital to

DEPRESSING: Bernard has criticised the number of empty shops flatten and rebuild the town centre's central block to create living and retail space.

This announcement is a further shift towards developing a stronger night time economy after Cineworld and chain restaurants moved into units in the Harvey Centre known as The Terrace.

Mr Chapman said: "I can't criticise the plans. I am all for it."

"The problem with all new town centres is that after 6pm it is dead, and that is not natural."

However, Mr Chapman, who has been trading in Harlow ever since he established a market stall in 1956, said empty shops and parking rates are another turn off for business.

He said: "Empty shops are like a cancer as once one shop is empty nobody wants the shop next door."

"To have empty shops for more than a year is crazy and it is because landlords want too much rent. When a shop is empty everybody loses because it is not bringing any money in."

"The big problem is parking. Staple Tye is packed because it is free parking, if someone wants to

TRIBUTE: The vehicles pass along Southern Way

Vehicle parade tribute to popular petrolhead

Military transport fan would have been 'chuffed' with funeral

By William Mata

william.mata@hertssexnews.co.uk

MILITARY vehicles paraded through Harlow in tribute to a "petrolhead," father of three.

Steve Hollis, who lived in Waterhouse Moor, Harlow, passed away on Monday, January 23, aged just 53, after losing his battle with cancer.

Friends from the Barmy Army, a group who are interested in military transport, drove all kinds of vehicles to his funeral at Parndon Wood Crematorium in Harlow last Thursday, February 16.

His sister-in-law Jade Gillespie, 32, of Stile Croft, Harlow, said: "It was quite a thing to see and he would have been so proud.

"He was a large part of the Barmy Army who loved military vehicles. If anyone broke down or needed anything he would be able to help.

"The turnout was amazing. There were four or five military vehicles and people had travelled a long way. They wanted to give him the best possible send-off.

"It was amazing, the crowd of people that were there. One man came from Eastbourne in a towing vehicle."

An electrical engineer by trade, Mr Hollis was known for being a useful handyman. He leaves behind wife Paula, three children named Joe, Ben and Lee, as well as one grandchild.

He previously lived with his wife on a narrow boat in Roydon Marina before moving to Waterhouse Moor in the latter part of last year when he became unwell with a rare form of kidney cancer.

More than 150 people attended the funeral. Following the hearse were off-road vehicles used for carrying military supplies (including a Land Rover 101) and motorbike riders.

Mrs Gillespie continued: "It would be unfair to call him a hoarder but he did collect everything. His motto was 'he who dies with the most toys wins'.

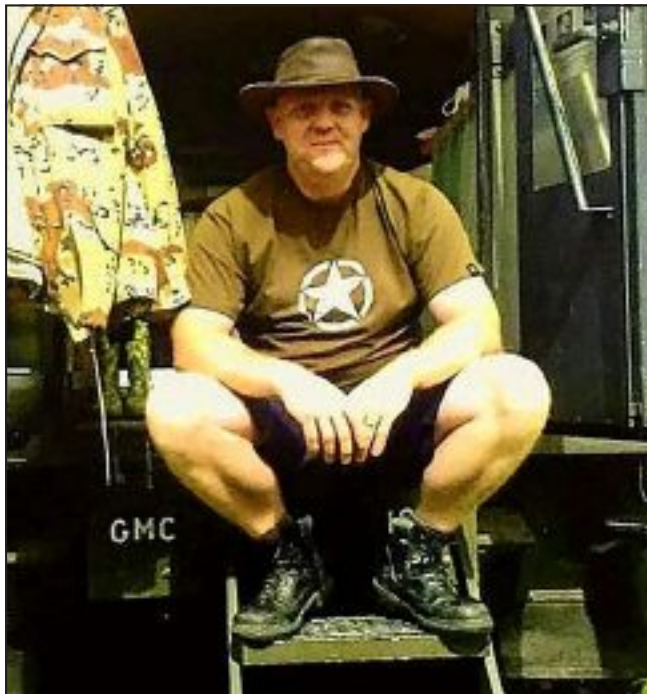

"He was a proper live life person and for him nothing was too much trouble. He would go out of his way to do anything for anyone.

"I think he would have been chuffed to see the funeral."

In addition his work colleagues provided a floral tribute, with flowers arranged to look like Mr Hollis' favourite KTM motorbike.

Mr Hollis spent a brief time in St Clare Hospice in Hastingwood before he died. Family friend Jana McEwan has raised £1,351 for the charity with a JustGiving page.

New apartments will help to 'enhance' the town centre

A FOUR-STORY block of 24 flats is set to be built in Harlow town centre after planning permission was granted.

Plans to build on a forecourt behind Redstone House in Crown Gate were passed unanimously by Harlow Council's development management committee last week (Wednesday, February 15).

There will be 13 one bedroom apartments, ten will be two bedroom and one will have three bedrooms.

Seven of those (29.2 per cent) will be classed as affordable housing, slightly under the council's target of providing one third.

Artists' impressions depict a modern design which will overlook the Holiday Inn Express and be a short walk from shops in Broad Walk and the bus station. It will include underfloor parking.

Dominic Padalino, an agent for the applicant, told the committee: "This will enhance the town centre.

"Our designs comply with the council's local plan and standards. It will bring much needed footfall to local businesses."

Shared

Some of the properties will carry a shared ownership agreement. This is a form of affordable housing where a tenant can buy a portion of the property's value from the landlord.

In the absence of committee chairman Phil Waite, councillor

Maggie Hulcoop was acting leader and expressed her support. All members voted in favour.

Ms Hulcoop said: "I think this is part of bringing the town centre back to something that we can be proud of. I think we do need that sort of mix of residential and commercial. I think it is part of where we are going as a town."

Planning permission was granted subject to conditions identified by the planning inspector being met.

Bus firm withdraws ticket option due to rider abuse

Passengers alleged to have used rover fare over a standard weekly

By Charlotte Page

TRUSTYBUS has withdrawn its Harlow weekly and North Weald rider ticket options as the company believes passengers have been abusing them.

The company has found passengers using the tickets to travel the entire length of the bus route because the tickets are cheaper than normal weekly tickets.

Galleon Travel, which owns Trustybus, declined to comment on the story, but has posted a message on its Facebook page which reads: "Due to abuse of the Harlow weekly and North Weald rider this ticket option has been withdrawn."

Numbers

"Our officials have found a large number of passengers using these weekly tickets to travel the total length of the route as it is cheaper than the normal weekly ticket."

"We are very disappointed with this and apologise to those that will be affected."

"With immediate effect the only weekly now available will be £19."

The announcement has caused debate on social media.

One regular bus user, who wished to remain anonymous, said: "I am extremely disappointed to discover that the North Weald rider ticket is being withdrawn without notice for all passengers because of the dishonest activities of a few people."

"£19 for a weekly ticket does not represent good value for those people, like myself, who only travel between Epping and North Weald."

Require

"It will be cheaper in this case to buy daily returns, which will require drivers to carry more change, take longer to process passengers, and cause longer journey times."

"Perhaps if drivers checked tickets more assiduously, those people abusing the rover ticket would be no longer allowed to buy them and continue to deliver a good value service to the loyal and honest customer base."

Other regular riders have been suggesting ways to tackle the misuse of tickets on social media, including having to show identification where passengers are coming from and an increase in the number of ticket inspectors who could check tickets at The Talbot, which is around half way into the route.

Trustybus has a full-time official checking tickets throughout the network.

Trains to get £4.7m wash and brush-up

HUNDREDS of Greater Anglia carriages will be cleaned and repaired in a £4.7 million refurbishment.

Two years after pledging to spend £30 million on hiring cleaners and improving hygiene, the rail franchise holder has announced further upgrades this week.

The investment will see 212 carriages in the 321 class and 317 carriages in the 72 class undergoing a significant programme of refurbishment.

Repainting

This will include new carpets, new seat covers, replacement dado panels, a deep clean throughout and interior repainting.

The work on the class 317 trains is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

The class 321 programme will continue into spring of next year.

Jamie Burles, Greater Anglia managing director, said: "As part of the new nine year franchise we will replace our entire fleet of trains with 1,043 brand new carriages."

"But in the meantime I am delighted this significant investment in the refurbishment of our Class 321 and 317 fleet will provide improved comfort for our customers."

Cruel stunt inspires effort to give homeless £20 notes

Reaction to student who burned money in front of homeless man

By William Mata

william.mata@hertsexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW entrepreneur was so outraged after watching footage of a Cambridge University student burning a £20 note in front of a homeless man that he decided to take action.

Lee Nicolaou, 23, of Morley Grove, co-launched What Can I Get You? last year and will open up the delivery company's office to take donations for rough sleepers before distributing.

In addition he and co-director Owen Barrow want to raise £2,000 to ceremonially hand £20 notes to as many homeless people as he can.

"It all started with that Cambridge video," he said. "It was so bad I wanted to do something."

"It is surprising that somebody could be so cruel and naive."

"By doing that [he] was using the individual as a laughing stock. It is really sad."

Lighter

A Snapchat video, posted on Thursday, February 2, showed law student Ronald Coyne reaching over to Ryan Davies, 31, with the money before attempting to burn it with a cigarette lighter.

The footage sparked public outrage against Mr Coyne, who was dressed in bow tie and tails, and Mr Nicolaou wanted to take positive action in response.

All are invited to donate food, blankets and clothes at the open day, held from 11am to 9pm on Thursday, March 2, at Unit 8 Marbridge House, Harolds Road, Harlow.

In addition he is promoting an online JustGiving page to try and raise the £2,000.

Both events are held in collaboration with financial website businessagent.com

What Can I Get You? allows customers to order items for delivery from shops and restaurants that do not usually deliver, such as newsagents, chemists or

Mr Nicolaou said: "I know a lot of homeless near Sainsbury's in Harlow from when I used to live around there.

"Lots of people share their views on Facebook, but helping homeless people is really easy to do something about."

"We are going to have the office open all day. People can leave whatever, it is just to get people to bring stuff down."

"We want to collect as much as we can. We also want to collect £2,000 and it will be given around the Harlow area."

Coyne has since been publicly criticised by his mother and kicked out of the Conservative Association.

County plans police and fire to share emergency control room

Three options put forward for residents to consider in a 12-week consultation

By Richard Duggan
richard.duggan@essexlive.news

PEOPLE in Essex are being urged to comment on changes to the way the county's police, fire and rescue services are governed.

A 12-week public consultation has launched after laws were passed in January to allow local fire and rescue governance to be brought under the authority of the Police and Crime Commissioner (PCC).

Essex PCC Roger Hirst said: "We aren't doing this to save money but any money that is saved will be reinvested into working with the community."

Changes

"You won't be seeing police officers trying to do fire officer jobs. This is not a merger."

Changes should see both organisations work better with volunteers and provide better service to the public by operating a joint emergency control room.

The idea is to make better use of back office services and estates, and help protect vulnerable people in joined-up ways.

The public will have three options to voice their opinion over:

The first option is the PCC becomes the 26th voting member of the Essex Fire Authority and continues to govern Essex Police.

The second option is the PCC taking on the role of the Essex Fire Authority, becoming Police, Fire and Crime Commissioner. The Commissioner would govern both fire and rescue and police services, while each organisation would retain its separate Chief Officers.

The third option is the PCC taking on the role of the Essex Fire Authority, becoming Police, Fire and Crime Commissioner – but a single Chief Officer is appointed and leads both services.

Mr Hirst said: "We are recommending option two and prefer it. We should see a better response with reporting non-emergency incidents, as well as a better coordinated response."

"The key thing is reinvesting any money saved into working with our community. We want to see better working with schools and better work with volunteers."

come and spend £10 in the town centre they have to pay X amount for parking so they don't come."

Harlow councillor Tony Durcan said he was encouraged with the development of the town.

He said: "The town centre rejuvenation is ongoing and very much continues to be work in progress with several private sector developments planned or taking place."

"Whilst the council has started to make small improvements to public spaces with more planned, we are working with the owners of various buildings to achieve a balance of new homes, new shops and new business. The improvements to the Harvey Centre have been a major boost for the Town Centre with the fantastic new cinema opening last December which will help attract other investment and interest. The former Marks and Spencer store building has been transformed with near to full occupation rather than remaining empty."

Since opening in December last year Cineworld has been a success in the Harvey Centre, according to general manager Stuart Banham. He said: "We're really pleased with how popular Cineworld Harlow Harvey Centre has become since the opening in December."

"The response from the local community has been fantastic and we're looking forward to continuing to welcome movie lovers into our state-of-the-art cinema."

Organisers of abseil fundraiser want Harlow people to join in

Rules changed for 20th year so participants can raise cash for specific families

ABSEILING down the Church Langley Water Tower has become an annual event since it was launched by Harlow Tye Rotary Club 20 years ago, and this year will be no different.

However, abseil co-ordinator and soon-to-be president of Harlow Tye Rotary Club Bill Colton, 76, wants to encourage more people to get involved and raise money for various charities in the run-up to the town's 70th birthday.

He said: "This year I am concentrating on getting our Harlow people involved."

"Whether its school PTA's, hospital groups, small charities, the Scouts or Cubs, we want to get Harlow people along."

"This is a golden opportunity to raise anything up to thousands of pounds in the 20th year that the abseil has run."

The abseil, which challenges brave daredevils to descend 110ft from the iconic Harlow landmark, has raised over £845,000 for more than 400 different charities since its launch in 1997.

Mr Colton, said: "Initially the

FANCY DRESS: Even Spiderman has done the abseil event was intended to be a one-off but it proved so successful it has now become an annual event.

"It was pure chance that it was launched on the same day as Harlow's 50th anniversary."

While most participants raise money for charities, the rules have changed slightly this year should people want to raise money for a particular person, family or be able to provide something for someone else.

Mr Colton, said: "In the past some people have wanted to raise money for a particular family so this year, if people wish to do so, the money will be issued to a particular cause."

"For example, for a holiday for a sick child, the money in this case will be given directly to the holiday company from the Harlow Tye Rotary Club so that the money is managed properly."

And it's not just the abseil that people can look forward to.

Mr Colton added: "There's two experiences, the first is just to go up on the roof of the Water Tower."

"That in itself is an experience looking out over Harlow, London and you can see Stansted Airport on a clear, sunny day."

Nervous

"The second experience is, of course, the abseil."

"Quite a lot of people are nervous, it's in the same category as a mini marathon to do the abseil, except you do not need to train or know how to do it."

Anyone over 16 years old is welcome to take part in the fundraiser.

The Harlow Tye Rotary Club Abseil will take place on Saturday and Sunday, April 29 and 30, at the Affinity Water Tower in Church Langley.

Registration costs £35 and the money will go to the abseil team, Dukes Barn, who are a registered

100 per cent of funds raised will go to the individual or group's

Weekend car blaze drama closes two lanes of M11

Northbound carriage closure causes traffic chaos in the area

By Huw Wales

huw.wales@ertssexnews.co.uk

PICTURES have emerged of a car fire on the M11 near Harlow that closed two lanes at the weekend.

Two lanes on the northbound carriage of the M11 between Junction Seven and Junction Eight were closed on Saturday while emergency services attended the incident.

Photographs from a witness, Natasha Gooding, an associate producer, showed a silver car engulfed in flames on the hard shoulder.

Burning

Smoke from the burning car was seen to be drifting across the carriageway.

The fire, which broke out at 11am on Saturday, took just under half an hour to put out.

Residual delays remained in the area even after the fire was put out and the car had been recovered.

No one is believed to have been hurt in the fire and witnesses reported that the occupants were able to get out.

Renovated Grade II listed hotel up for sale

CHURCHGATE Hotel, an historical building in Old Harlow, could reopen and expand if a buyer is found.

The grade II listed building is currently out of trade and has been put on the market after being refurbished from a derelict state by a developer.

Property adviser firm Davis Coffey Lyons has been instructed by Longmont Properties to market the 17th century country public house and boutique hotel.

Offers are invited although no asking price has been listed. It is understood the refurbishment works are now nearing completion.

New look

Connie Start, associate director of Davis Coffey Lyons, said: "The property has been refurbished to a high standard and would ideally suit an experienced multiple pub or hotel enterprise, or a corporate operator."

Churchgate Hotel, in Churchgate Street, includes eight en-suite rooms and planning permission is in place for eight further garden suites.

The 9,257 sq ft premises also contains bar and restaurant areas, a large beer garden and 30 space car park.

The property is available freehold or leasehold.

Ex-pupil is back at school with new book

POPULAR children's author Bethan Woollvin read her comic twist on Little Red Riding Hood to pupils at a Harlow school.

The up and coming writer, who also illustrates her work, paid a surprise visit to Year 2 students at William Martin Infant School in Tawneys Road.

Miss Woollvin, a former William Martin pupil herself, dropped in with her book Little Red, which reinvents the protagonist as a heroine you would not want to mess with.

Excitement

The visit tied in with the school's focus on traditional tales.

Andrew Jacobs, deputy head teacher, said: "The children were excited to listen to her version of the old story and learn all about how books are produced, from first ideas to finished products."

"They then shared their new ideas for stories with Bethan while making a giant story map full of new characters and new places."

Miss Woollvin was the 2014 winner of the Macmillan Prize for Illustration in 2014 and winner of the New York Times' best children's illustrated book of the year award last year.

Head blasts new school funding formula targets

'High-performing schools could suffer'

By William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

WELL-PERFORMING schools in Essex could be left out of pocket by a Government reform, according to a Harlow head teacher.

Vic Goddard, principal of Passmores Academy in Traces Road, said the proposed National Funding Formula (NFF) will not be the fair solution the Government has promised.

If the proposals go-ahead, the NFF will replace the so-called postcode lottery system for school funding from 2018-19.

Justine Greening, Education Secretary, hailed the plan as a fairer distribution of funding that levels the funding playing field.

But the changes will leave many schools facing an eight per cent cut in overall budgets in a time of already stretched resources, according to a report by the Institute of Fiscal Studies.

Mr Goddard was one of several Harlow head teachers to write a letter to town MP Robert Halfon to ask the Government to pledge more funding to help schools balance the books.

CONCERN: Vic Goddard,

He said: "I wish to maintain or improve our current standards and I insist the Government uses taxpayers' money to invest in our young people at a level which enables us to do this. Sadly, the proposals made under the new NFF do not provide a meaningful remedy to the problems we face."

In 2016 more than 96 per cent of secondary schools in the county were rated 'good' or 'outstanding' by Ofsted.

But Mr Goddard, who featured in Channel 4 documentary Educating Essex, said this high performance is at risk.

He added: "Whilst (the NFF) provides greater transparency and fairness, other significant factors (such as core funding cuts and taxes) have undermined the whole process.

"The proposal perpetuates some schools being winners and others being losers.

"Over the past five years schools have received a flat amount of funding for Key Stages 3 and 4. Post-16 funding for schools has been cut. During this period schools have faced significant increases in costs which have not been funded. All Essex secondary head teachers feel the NFF consultation is a distraction from the real issue which is that schools and academies are now seriously underfunded."

Mr Halfon, who is also Minister of State for Apprenticeships and Skills, said he has contacted Ms Greening with the concerns.

The MP said: "The proposed reforms will mean an end to historical unfairness and underfunding for certain schools, levelling the playing field and giving parents the confidence that every child will have an equal opportunity to reach their full potential."

Bravery is rewarded as pair are locked up

A POLICEMAN was dragged 20ft by a car after he witnessed a robbery while off-duty in Harlow.

The brave actions of police constable Paul Marks 18 months ago were rewarded after two women were sentenced this week.

PC Marks spotted a 77-year-old man from Harlow being robbed of a three figure sum of cash inside the Co-op in Bush Fair, Harlow, on October 12, 2015.

He chased Alice Smith, 31, of Mallows Green, Harlow, as she ran from the scene and jumped into a red BMW being driven by Elaine Cochrane, 40, of Hollyfield, Harlow.

Cochrane accelerated as the PC grabbed Smith through a window. He was dragged 20ft and sustained injuries to his knees and upper body which he is still suffering today.

However he managed to take down the number plate and both women were later arrested.

Vulnerable

Detective Constable Leo Fordham, the investigating officer, said: "He instinctively placed himself on duty after witnessing a vulnerable man being robbed of his pension money and bravely gave chase.

"He managed to take note of Cochrane's number plate despite being dragged 20ft and suffering injuries, the effects of which he is still suffering today.

"PC Marks' actions went beyond the call of duty and resulted in two people being brought to justice."

On Friday (February 17) Cochrane was found guilty of dangerous driving following a trial and was sentenced to 15 weeks in prison and disqualified from driving for 12 months at Chelmsford Crown Court.

She was also found not guilty of actual bodily harm (ABH) and robbery.

Smith was sentenced to 30 months in prison at Chelmsford Crown Court on Thursday, June 9, last year, after admitting robbery and two counts of ABH.

This sentence was later reduced to two years after she appealed in December 2016.

GET IT ON: T.Rextasy, Marc Bolan tribute band

T.Rextasy for all fans of the late, great Marc Bolan

Top tribute act's leader says Harlow Playhouse is a 'second home'

By William Mata
william.mata@hertsexsexnews.co.uk

IT'S been 40 years since glam-rock pioneer Marc Bolan of T.Rex tragically died in a car crash, but his legacy lives on with tribute band T.Rextasy.

Frontman of the performing four-piece Danielz is celebrating his own 25th anniversary of performing this year, the year which would have seen his idol Bolan turn 70.

And Harlow Playhouse holds a special place in Danielz' heart, who considers the venue a second home and returns with T.Rextasy on Saturday, March 4.

"It is a special tour as it is 40 years since Marc Bolan died," said Danielz.

"We started a tour at the beginning of January. We will not finish until December, we are getting on for 100 dates.

"If people come along they will expect to have the hits but for the die-hard fans we also do a 15 minute acoustic slot, and play B-sides and album tracks.

"It is not one of those mild-mannered shows, we are a rock and roll band."

Danielz and T.Rextasy have been performing hits such as Hot Love, I Like To Boogie, Children Of The Revolution, Solid Gold Easy Action and Get It On since 1992.

The tribute band has now been performing longer than the real T.Rex, who released 13 albums from 1968 (initially under former name Tyrannosaurus Rex) until Bolan's death in 1977.

While the line-up has changed over the years, Danielz has been the constant and his leadership has steered the band to become one of the most respected tributes on the circuit.

The frontman is currently joined by John Skelton on drums, Rob Butterfield on bass and Neil Cross on rhythm guitar.

T.Rextasy has toured Europe and Japan as well as releasing their own recordings after striking a deal with Columbia Records.

But Danielz is as inspired by the 1970s rhythms as ever and is looking forward to continuing the tour.

Tremendous

"It is going to be tremendous," he said. "It snowballs on the way.

"We have played Harlow Playhouse numerous times over the years. It is nice people come again and again, we must be doing something right.

"It is almost like a home from home. I prefer playing theatres like the Playhouse which have been established for years. It has its own character.

"Whenever we go back we know where to go and we know some of the staff there. It is like a cosy blanket.

"There is nothing more to achieve. One dream was to play Wembley Arena, one was to get a major record deal and we wanted to tour Japan. We have achieved all of those and played Japan twice.

"My ambitions for the band have been fulfilled. Since then I have just wanted to gain momentum for as long as I can continue touring good quality theatres.

"Every year there is something special that comes up. We are doing a big thing at Shepherds Bush Empire in September, which is when Mark's birthday would have been.

"This year I have promised the band they will get a three-week block holiday in the summer."

He added: "I can never change the final song. If we do not end with Hot Love it is like there is something not quite right with what we are doing."

Centenarian Elizabeth celebrates with relatives

THE oldest in a family of five generations celebrated turning 100 with her numerous relatives.

Elizabeth Sanders, who lives in Fitzwilliam Court, Orchard Lane, Harlow, received a card from the Queen as she marked her centenary on Sunday.

More than 40 family members and friends gathered at the care home to have a party with Bessie, as she is known, with champagne and cake on offer.

Her daughter Pat Trunley said: "She enjoyed it. She is getting very old now, but it was a big day for her."

Mrs Sanders was born in Ireland and moved to Leytonstone after marrying Ernie before moving to Harlow where she has now lived for 62 years.

The couple also had a son Ronald, as well as four grandchildren, six great grandchildren and three great great grandchildren. Mr Sanders sadly died in the 1980s after more than 25 years of marriage.

Canteen

Mrs Sanders worked for many years in the executive kitchens of UG Glass, at its site in Edinburgh Way, Harlow, having previously worked in a school canteen.

She has now been at Fitzwilliam Court for 15 years and is thought to have lived there the longest.

Mrs Trunley said: "She never smoked, she never drank and she even has less wrinkles than me!"

DANIEL ROBINSON & SONS

Independent Family

Funeral Directors and Monumental Masons

Established
1892

Traditional values, respect & care for 125 Years

This year Daniel Robinson & Sons are celebrating 125 years' service, and have been conducting funerals in and around Harlow since the New Town was built 70 years ago.

Daniel Robinson, the founder of the business, was a local man, born in the village of Elsenham near Stansted Mountfitchet, Essex, in 1892. Daniel was a particularly able and far-sighted man and, within a relatively short time, he had bought a brickyard and land for business, followed by a builder's yard. Timber was readily available on his farmland and he built a saw mill to enable the use of the timber in building local properties.

The Saw Mill at Stansted with Smiler the horse and the team of workmen, including one of Daniel's sons, Harold (tallest man at the back left).

They began to use the timber for coffins and the funeral and memorial side of the business initially began trading in Bishop's Stortford.

In 1966 it was evident that the flourishing New Town of Harlow would benefit from the building of a funeral home with the full services of a funeral director and monumental mason. A leasehold site at Wych Elm, Harlow, was acquired from Harlow Development Corporation, enabling the second branch of Daniel Robinson & Sons to open. This was the first purpose-designed funeral director's premises built in the area. In those days it was run by Fred Donaldson who lived in and served Harlow for thirty years.

In 2017 the Wych Elm funeral home provides excellent facilities for the families of Harlow, with everything on-site, a dedicated, qualified team and ongoing investment in their fleet of funeral vehicles which are fully air conditioned for the comfort of families.

Today, the Company is led by Gary Neill, who has held the position of Managing Director for 30 years and there are further branches in Epping, Loughton, Great Dunmow, Sawbridgeworth, Braintree, Halstead, and most recently a new branch, which has been fully renovated has been opened in Waltham Abbey.

The Harlow funeral home is managed by James Gallagher, Craig Knott and Derek Oakley. They work closely with the local community, supporting a range of Clubs and Charities, including an ongoing commitment to St Clare Hospice, which they have supported from its development and for which the company has raised over £700k.

WHY CHOOSE A PRE-PAID FUNERAL PLAN?

Pre-paid funeral plans are already established as a caring and responsible way of making arrangements. Services can be tailored to reflect an individual's personality, wishes and life.

With families living further apart and, in some cases moving abroad, it is not unusual for children or relatives to purchase a plan on behalf of an elderly or infirm relative or parent.

Pre-paid funeral plans are not normally regarded as forming part of a person's assets or estate, so therefore, in some circumstances this may enable the plan holder to claim benefits for which they may not otherwise qualify. This could even prove advantageous with situations involving inheritance tax.

The National Society of Allied & Independent Funeral Directors (SAIF), which Daniel Robinson & Sons are proud members of, recommend Golden Charter pre-paid funeral plans. Golden Charter work solely on behalf of 3,300 independent funeral directors throughout the UK.

Local independent funeral directors are proud that when plans are made with them they can use their local knowledge to personalise the pre-paid plan for the individual, with a good overview of the community that they serve. They will ensure that the most appropriate services and up to date price information is available, maintaining choice and providing a professional service. Daniel Robinson & Sons are committed to upholding their professional standards and providing both traditional and contemporary services. They are not distracted by corporate rules, meaning that they can concentrate on delivering a personal service to you and your family.

- Cover the cost of your funeral director's services at today's prices - a simple, practical way to beat rising funeral prices.
- Protect your family from the worry of funeral costs and put your mind at rest that all is taken care of.
- An opportunity, if you wish, to specify your wishes and preferences.

Buyer beware - do you know who will deliver the funeral?

There are many ways to purchase a Funeral Plan, however, it is recommended that you take the time to contact your local independent family funeral director for a more personal and knowledgeable service, this is because

- If you purchase a Funeral Plan over the internet, shop counter or telephone, the seller has no vested interest in ensuring that you receive the best service and value for your money at the time of need.
- Although you may be able to nominate a funeral director of your choice at the time you make the purchase, that funeral director may be offered far less money by the holder of the funds than you have paid them to provide the service. They therefore may be unable to accept the funeral, leaving the funeral to be allocated to a funeral director who is not local to you.
- Families sometimes feel pressurised by on-line and telephone salespeople to make a quick decision.

Why do Daniel Robinson & Sons use Golden Charter?

- The money is safely protected in a Trust Fund.
- Over half a million plan holders have already trusted them with their funeral arrangements.
- They are the UK's largest funeral plan provider - in recent years they've sold more plans than any other provider.
- Golden Charter is owned by independent funeral directors, of which there are 3300 throughout the UK.

PAST TIMES

This town has gone downhill

I AM writing regarding Robert Halfon's article (February 16) where he called Harlow the best town in Britain.

What a joke, best town in Britain.

I have lived in this town for more than 50 years. In the 1960s it was a great town with lovely shops and the market.

There was a good bus service to all areas. I suggest he goes online and sees the old videos of Harlow.

Not now, the market is dirty with only six stalls.

The town has gone downhill in the last few years, just walk around Terminus Street, it is dirty and scruffy.

Poundland has now closed and how long will that be an eyesore like BHS and the old cinema?

That end of the town is a disgrace.

God only knows what visitors think as they arrive at the lovely bus station, now they must be so excited to be greeted with pigeons and layabouts.

Yes, Mr Halfon what you describe as a lovely town is a complete disaster.

Go back to the good old days in Harlow not the mess it is now.

NEWSPAPERS

Have your daily read delivered

IN RESPONSE to your reader's letter regarding difficulty in purchasing newspapers in Harlow (Newspaper Nightmare, February 16) there is a little known company in Harlow called one click papers who are based at the Latton Bush Business Centre.

UNDER FIRE: Robert Halfon had called Harlow the best town in Britain, but one reader disagrees with his assessment

They have a wide network of local boys and girls who deliver a good 'old fashioned' newspaper and magazine delivery service across the whole town.

They also deliver the Harlow Star.

If anyone wants a newspaper delivered either daily or just of a weekend simply call 01279 265265 for more details.

Online service is available too

HAVING read in last week's Harlow Star about the difficulties a reader had in buying a Saturday newspaper in Harlow, I would like to let the now there is an online newspaper delivery service available in Harlow.

The website address is www.oneclickpapers.com and you can order a daily or weekend papers as needed.

The delivery charge is £0.25 per day, but you can order as many newspapers as you want delivered on the same day at the same cost.

If any further help is needed please feel free to contact me via the website.

Town MP hails new housing measures

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon has praised the Government's latest housing plans as he believes they will help build 'an even better Harlow'.

The Government has proposed to help create more affordable homes with fairer rents, as well as providing accommodation which supports both vulnerable and elderly people.

Mr Halfon said: "I am often contacted by local residents about housing. I've worked hard to ensure that the Government reflects the needs of Harlow's renters, Harlow's first-time buyers and Harlow's homeless."

Speaking of the prospect of more affordable homes, Mr Halfon continued: "This announcement is good news for first-time buyers and will help hard working people get on the housing ladder."

The Government is also set to help people save for a deposit through means such as Help to Buy, to build new starter homes and to increase housing supply by opening up brownfield land.

Protect

Speaking of fairer rents, Mr Halfon, said: "These proposals will help and protect renters. For the average couple who are privately renting, rent now takes up half of their gross income."

"We will stop exploitation, by banning letting agent fees, fining and banning the worst landlords and agents, encouraging longer-term leases to give families security."

Latest Government proposals by the will provide supported accommodation for vulnerable and elderly people, with Harlow set to receive £891,300 as part of the Government's Homelessness Prevention Trailblazers scheme.

"This funding is for local authorities to try out new initiatives to target families and individuals who they believe to be at risk, so that they can stop being made homeless in the first place," said Mr Halfon.

He continued: "These housing plans will help to build an even better Harlow and ensure there is Harlow housing for Harlow people. We are supporting more affordable homes, fairer rents and helping those who need it most in supported housing or without any home at all."

Charity warns of rise in town's 'hidden homeless'

Squatters and 'sofa surfers' are not counted in official figures

By William Mata

william.mata@hertsessexnews.co.uk

HOMELESSNESS in Harlow may be worse than previously thought with statistics showing a worrying number of sofa surfers and squatters.

Housing charity Shelter revealed one in 169 are considered homeless in Harlow, which equates to approximately 530 people in a population of around 90,000.

Harlow Council recently estimated there are 20 rough sleepers. But more are considered to be among the town's 'hidden homeless' by not having an address of their own.

John Downes, treasurer of charity Harlow Chocolate Run, said he has come across many strugglers sleeping on the floors or sofas of friends, or by temporarily living in a squat or bed and breakfast.

He said: "There is a hidden homeless problem and we need to bring them out."

"These are people who are not rough sleeping, but sofa surfing or squatting."

In need

"They do not count as rough sleepers but they do not have a post code which means they cannot claim benefits."

Harlow Chocolate Run provides a ten day Christmas haven, offering the homeless a chance to sleep, receive a meal and use bathroom facilities.

The charity, which is based at the Great Parndon Community Association in Abercrombie Way, also runs a Sunday evening drop-in, with a meal, clothing and bathroom facilities on offer.

The service, which has been in the town since 1992, is staffed by volunteers and relies on donations from cafes and restaurants from around the town.

There is also a partnership established with Harlow Streets2Homes, a charity which helps the homeless find accommodation.

Said one homeless man: "This place (Harlow Chocolate Run) has given me food and somewhere to socialise."

And a 29-year-old Harlow man, who did not wish to be named, said: "I cannot afford the £140-a-week rent needed to stay in Harlow with work as it is.

"The worst thing is the boredom. Some days are worse than others, there is nothing to do."

"That is why people start turning to drugs or alcohol but I have not."

Crisis

Crisis, a national homeless charity, recently published data to show there are 131 rough sleepers in Essex, which is an 18 per cent rise since 2010.

Jo Busson, chairman of Harlow Chocolate Run, said the charity is needed more than ever, and she is "grateful" for the support of the community.

She said: "People are so much more aware of what we do now. We are self-funding, there is not one paid member of staff."

"In Harlow people are amazing around Christmas. We have always had Christmas dinner donated to us from Park Inn hotel."

"A lot of people arrive here after a relationship breakdown and feel embarrassed at their circumstances."

"We want to treat people with respect."

"We do not want people to share toilets. We want to provide a sociable environment as best as we can."

"But our dream is for no one to come at all at Christmas."

ASSAULT: Police hunt gang who robbed and hit brain-damaged food bank helper

Richard, 26, was in a coma for two years, in hospital for over four, but is now the victim of a fresh attack

By Conor Gogarty
conor.gogarty@essexlive.news

A HARLOW man left in a coma for two years following an assault has been attacked in Chelmsford again – and was told he would be killed.

Richard Kennedy, 26, suffers from brain damage and seizures after being punched outside Dukes nightclub in October 2010, putting him in a coma for two years and Broomfield Hospital for over four.

The food bank volunteer had a seizure when he was assaulted again during a robbery in Chelmsford city centre on February 13.

He was targeted by a gang of four or five young men while walking from Central Park through the underpass to Parkway at around 11.45am.

The gang punched and kicked him and stole £85. Mr Kennedy, whose parents died within four days of each other earlier this month, was told by the robbers he would be killed if he fought back.

Footsteps

He said: "I was in Chelmsford to meet a friend, and I heard quick footsteps like a couple of people were jogging. I was on my way to turn round to move out of their way, but before I knew it I was jumped by men, all wearing dark clothes, and I ended up on the floor."

"They punched and kicked me on my head, chest, stomach and legs, all over my body. I was petrified and thought I was going to die."

"They were swearing at me, I was face down and I had a really bad seizure. I proper freaked out and didn't have a clue what was going on."

Essex Police said Mr Kennedy's attackers were then seen to run back into the park.

He said he is feeling "shaken up" after the robbery, which has left him with bruising.

"I do feel I've had a really bad run of luck," he said. "I was in my last year of Chelmsford College before

HELP US TO HELP 'POOR LAD'

The Harlow Star is raising money to help Richard Kennedy, after several readers offered to make donations.

There was a surge of support for the robbery victim after we told the story on his ordeal on Tuesday.

When Mr Kennedy learned of our readers' pledge to raise funds for him he said: "Flaming heck."

"I'm not happy that it happened because it shouldn't have, but it shows the generosity of some people."

Reader Cath commented on our story: "Absolutely heartbreaking what this poor lad has been through. If anyone deserves a break it's him."

"I'm not sure how they work, but maybe a JustGiving page or something could be set up to help make things a little easier?"

Warren added: "Well I'm happy to donate £100 to start it off. There are some sick and cowardly people out there. Essex Live, happy to pay through you."

Gill, who also said she would donate, said: "Let's give this poor lad a bit of comfort and help. He deserves a bit of love."

my brain damage.

"I was going to go to university and become a PE teacher, but it has all gone out the window."

"I was walking home with my ex-girlfriend when I was assaulted in 2010. I headbutted the floor and I was kaput.

"The left side of my skull was fractured and I couldn't walk for several years. I was really weak and I couldn't sit up."

Mr Kennedy, of Hart Road in Harlow, added that he is "going to do the best [he] can" for his brother and sister after the death of his parents.

Four more reasons why Harlow's a great place to live

HARLOW is turning 70 in 2017 and to celebrate we are asking residents to share their favourite things about the town.

Each week we will share a few thoughts from residents about what makes Harlow great. Here are entries 13 to 16...

■ 13. Richie Parrott: Harlow resident Favourite thing about Harlow: Harlow Playhouse
"I CAN trace my love affair with this building back to Sooty. He got me through the door aged about four and I've been coming for so long now that I can honestly say it feels like my second home."

"I was properly reintroduced to the building aged 19 when I attended an open day and was taken on a tour, including the backstage areas. I found it so thrilling that I signed up to working backstage on the pantomime Babes in the Wood."

"Since that first panto I have worked in every part of the building. I currently work behind the bar and it's great to see the building still being used and loved by the people of Harlow."

"It's especially heartening to see the children coming through the door to see their first panto and wondering if, like me, they will catch the theatre bug."

■ 14. Paul Bartlett: Senior manager at Price Bailey accountancy and vice chairman at Harlow College Favourite thing about Harlow: Surprising qualities
"I'm REALLY proud to say I'm from Harlow. There are many things I love about the town but the one thing that sticks out for me is often the surprise that people get when arriving in the town for the first time."

"When I was at university I had a friend come and stay with me. This friend was from Wilmslow in Cheshire so he arrived in the town with low expectations given the reputation that is often attached with Harlow."

"I remember his surprise at the vast green spaces and him expressing his surprise at how clean it was."

■ 15. Sally Anderson: Curator Parndon Mill Gallery, Harlow
Favourite thing about Harlow: Parndon Mill Gallery
"IT MIGHT seem somewhat self-centred, but I have to say that my favourite place in Harlow is Parndon Mill. I moved my ceramics studio here 49 years ago and with the help of many other artists, and the dedication of the indispensable Roger Lee, I have developed what was a derelict property into a thriving hub of creativity. "The carefully restored buildings in the attractive riverside site now provide studios for artists, designers and craftsmen with a wide array of talents and skills. But this is not just an enclave of artists, it now involves the community."

"Here people can be inspired and learn. Classes vary from painting and life drawing to casting and blowing glass. Some are for complete beginners and there are also workshops in ceramics, printing, sculpture and textiles for small groups or individuals. "The gallery is open five days a week and gives artists the opportunity to exhibit their work and the public to enjoy a very wide range of fine art and crafts."

■ 16. Ian Hudson: General manager of Harlow and District Chamber of Commerce Favourite thing about Harlow: Diversity
"I THINK the best thing is its diversity and the different aspects to the town."

"From art and sports, if you look hard enough there are lots of diverse communities."

Mystical adventures

Doctor Strange (12)

Available to download/stream from February 28, on DVD/Blu-ray from March 6

Stephen Strange (Benedict Cumberbatch) is a brilliant and arrogant neurosurgeon, with a minimalist Manhattan apartment and an off-limits romance with fellow medic, Christine Palmer (Rachel McAdams). Years of meticulous study are jeopardised when Strange foolishly takes a telephone call in his speeding silver Lamborghini. Medical colleagues save his life, but not his career, surgically refashioning his trembling hands with 11 metal pins. Cast adrift from the world of science, Strange heads to Kathmandu in search of spiritual enlightenment in the company of an enigmatic Celtic shaman called The Ancient One (Tilda Swinton), who harnesses energy to shape reality. Two of her Masters, Karl Mordo (Chiwetel Ejiofor) and Wong (Benedict Wong), take Strange under their wing and spearhead his training. As his confidence grows, Strange learns about a former Master, Kaecilius (Mads Mikkelsen), who strayed from the path of righteousness and uses his powers for evil. Doctor Strange is the latest tumble down the rabbit hole of the Marvel Comics universe – a hallucinogenic, kaleidoscopic trip of mind-bending special effects that will either dazzle you or induce a pounding headache. City streets and landmarks fold in on themselves, rotate and collapse on multiple axes, rather like Christopher Nolan's Inception or one of MC Escher's disorienting illustrations. Cumberbatch digs deep beneath the bruised skin of his character's overinflated ego, verbalizing the inner turmoil of a self-anointed god, who learns he is flawed and not entirely the master of his own destiny.

Nocturnal Animals (15)

Available to download/stream from February 27, on DVD/Blu-ray from March 13

Los Angeles gallery owner Susan Morrow (Amy Adams) is locked in an emotionally numb marriage to philandering businessman, Hutton (Armie Hammer). Out of the blue, Susan receives a manuscript from her first husband, Edward (Jake Gyllenhaal), whose sweet nature and humble Texan origins jarred with her monstrous mother, Anne (Laura Linney). With Hutton away on business, Susan devours the pages of Edward's manuscript and in her mind's eye, she imagines the lead character Tony Hastings (Gyllenhaal again), his wife Laura (Isa Fisher) and teenage daughter India (Ellie Bamber) taking a late night drive. On an empty stretch of desert highway, the family is terrorized by Ray Marcus (Aaron Taylor-Johnson) and his buddies. Laura and India are abducted and local detective Bobby Andes (Michael Shannon) supports Tony as the husband discovers the women's horrifying fate.

Benedict Cumberbatch stars in Doctor Strange

Nocturnal Animals is an impeccably tailored and gripping psychological thriller based on the novel Tony And Susan by Austin Wright. Writer-director Tom Ford serves up a dish of revenge with measured restraint, bolstered by powerhouse performances from Adams and Gyllenhaal.

Buckinghamshire-born co-star Taylor-Johnson is truly menacing and Oscar nominee Shannon impresses in his key scenes. Ford employs the simple yet effective film-within-a-film structure, ricocheting between metallic, minimalist reality and sun-baked, sweat-stained fiction with aplomb.

A Cure For Wellness (18)

Gore Verbinski, who masterminded the opening three instalments of the Pirates Of The Caribbean series, directs this psychological thriller set predominately in a creepy wellness centre located in the Swiss Alps. Ambitious young executive Lockhart (Dane DeHaan, inset) is summoned to the company boardroom where senior staff reveal that CEO Roland Pembroke (Harry Groener) has disappeared to a spa at a crucial juncture in a business deal. They need Lockhart to locate and retrieve Pembroke in order for him to sign a merger. At the request of the board, he travels to the spa and becomes concerned by some of the treatments offered by director Dr Volmer (Jason Isaacs) and his staff. En route back to New York, Lockhart is involved in a car accident and is forced to recuperate at the spa where his mobility is limited by a broken leg. He is subsequently diagnosed with a mystery illness that affects all patients at the spa including a quixotic young girl named Hannah (Mia Goth). Aided by another patient called Victoria Watkins (Celia Imrie), Lockhart begins to delve into the dark and twisted history of the spa and he discovers centuries of bloodshed and carnage dating back to the tyrannical reign of a cruel baron.

It's Only The End Of The World (15)

French Canadian filmmaker Xavier Dolan collected the coveted Grand Prix at the 2016 Cannes Film Festival for this emotionally wrought drama about a young man returning home to his estranged family. Adapted from the play of the same title by Jean-Luc Lagarce, It's Only The End Of The World centres on 34-year-old gay playwright Louis (Gaspard Ulliel), who has not seen his family for 12 years. Returning home in the midst of a battle with terminal illness, which he has kept secret from his mother Martine (Nathalie Baye) and the rest of the brood, Louis encounters hostility from his brother Antoine (Vincent Cassel). Thankfully, Antoine's wife Catherine (Marion Cotillard) is more open to reconciliation, while his sister Suzanne (Lea Seydoux) doesn't really remember him. Secrets come to the fore as Louis debates whether to tell the family about his impending death.

WAHLBERG SHINES IN GRIPPING THRILLER

PATRIOTS DAY (15)

Director Peter Berg and leading man Mark Wahlberg previously collaborated on the testosterone-fuelled action thrillers Lone Survivor and Deepwater Horizon.

They draw inspiration from another harrowing true story of heroism for this gripping race against time.

Patriots Day introduces a fictional character into the heart of real-life terrorism – the bombing of the 2013 Boston marathon – to pay rousing and sometimes overblown tribute to the men and women who risked their lives in the name of justice.

The script's queasy conflation of fact and artistic licence runs the risk of glamorizing the hunt for the perpetrators.

We become completely immersed in the investigation as it gathers pace, culminating in a shootout on the city streets.

Vehicles explode, hundreds of bullets scythe through the air, transforming a sleepy nook of suburban Massachusetts into a flaming, debris-strewn war zone.

It's certainly a pulse-quickening, edge-of-seat rendering of a senseless act that made headlines around the world.

On the morning of April 15, Dzhokhar Tsarnaev (Alex Wolff) and his brother Tamerlan (Themo Melikidze) head into Boston with homemade bombs concealed in rucksacks.

They move into the thick crowds of spectators thronging the marathon course, drop the bags and move to safety before detonating the devices in quick succession near the finish line.

Hundreds of people are injured in the blasts.

"We've got to decide who's running this and we've got to decide quickly," Deval Patrick (Michael Beach), the Governor of Massachusetts, tells Boston Police Commissioner Ed Davis (John Goodman) and the assembled responders.

"It's terrorism, we'll take it!" responds FBI Special Agent Richard DesLauriers (Kevin Bacon) as he discovers fragments of a bomb at the scene.

Sergeant Tommy Saunders (Wahlberg) and his wife Carol (Michelle Monaghan), a registered nurse, are on the front line during the subsequent man hunt.

Their resolves are tested along with Boston's mayor Thomas Menino (Vincent Curatola) and other figures in public office including Police Sergeant Jeffrey Pugliese (JK Simmons).

Meanwhile, Dzhokhar and Tamerlan steal a car belonging to student Dun Meng (Jimmy O Yang), which they intend to drive to New York to carry out more atrocities.

Patriots Day seamlessly blends footage shot by witnesses, who were in Boston that day, with grainy reconstructions to document events before the explosions up to the point that one of the suspects is found hiding inside a boat.

Berg's bombastic approach to action sequences sets our pulses racing and he effortlessly holds us in a vice-like grip for more than two hours, even if we know the chain of events from news coverage.

Wahlberg portrays another steadfast all-American hero, who refuses to let anyone harm the city he loves.

The voices of real-life survivors and officers reverberate over the end credits, hammering home the true valour and sacrifice behind the expensive Hollywood pyrotechnics.

News, reviews & sales:
harlowstar.co.uk/motors

Thursday, February 23, 2017

By Ian Donaldson

We bought a record 2.7 million new cars last year, a sales bonanza fuelled by affordable consumer credit and a fantastic range of vehicles to choose from.

The experts reckon we won't be able to sustain those sales figures in 2017 but still end up with one of the best years ever.

If you're likely to be looking for a brand new car in the months ahead consider yourself lucky – there has never been a more tempting array of models to choose from.

And with new car tax rules coming in to effect from April, now is the time to get a good deal.

The pace of new car introductions gets ever more hectic, but here are some highlights we'll see in dealer showrooms during 2017.

Take the tenth generation Honda Civic. Starting from £18,235 on the road for the entry level S grade, the range tops out at £27,480 on the road for the 182 horsepower VTEC Turbo Prestige with automatic transmission.

Honda has launched two new petrol engines for the latest Civic: a 1.0 litre three cylinder which produces 129 horsepower and a more powerful 1.5 litre four cylinder with 182 horsepower.

The next generation Ford Fiesta has been unveiled with the most sophisticated range of driver assistance technologies and connectivity features ever in a volume small car in Europe, says the company.

Powertrains include Ford's multi-award winning 1.0-litre EcoBoost petrol engine offering up to 140 horsepower, and a 1.5-litre TDCi diesel with 120bhp – the first high-power diesel Fiesta powertrain.

Ford anticipates CO2 emissions from 82g/km, supported by an all-new six-speed transmission with innovative friction reduction technologies.

The new Land Rover Discovery is set to be one of the star cars of 2017. Powered by a 3.0-litre V6 diesel developing 258bhp and mated to an eight speed automatic gearbox the powertrain is tried and tested in the current model.

Performance figures are

improved and the new Discovery now takes only 7.7 seconds to accelerate from 0 to 60mph. Top speed is up to 130mph and the official fuel return is now 39.2mpg giving emissions of 189g/km – down from 213g/km in the current model.

The new Audi A5 Coupe and five-door Sportback will be joined by a Cabriolet version in the spring. Alongside the standard A5 there will be a potent S5 Cabrio with a 349 horsepower 3.0-litre turbo V6.

That promises to take the car from 0-62mph in 5.1 seconds. Other engines include a 2.0-litre diesel which is expected to be the biggest seller.

A plug-in version of the new BMW 5 Series will be on stream by the spring with a theoretical fuel economy of more than 140 miles per gallon.

The 530e will be able to run for up almost 30 miles as a zero emission electric vehicle while its 0 to 60 acceleration is rated at 6.2 seconds with a maximum of 155mph. Prices will start at £43,985.

Hyundai's all-new i30 is ready to roll with an on-sale date of March 1, when it will arrive in the UK to compete against the likes of the Ford Focus, VW Golf and Vauxhall Astra.

It comes with updated exterior and interior styling plus a great range of high-tech driving aids for safety and convenience plus a new range of engines, two petrol and one diesel. It also comes at starting price of £16,995 and offers the generous Hyundai five year unlimited mileage warranty.

The biggest MINI in the brand's history is chasing buyers who love the name and everything that goes with it – but need the space for a growing family.

So, the new MINI Countryman is longer and wider than a VW Golf and comes with leg room for grown ups in the back and a decent sized boot.

The new MINI Countryman range starts at £22,465 for a petrol powered Cooper.

Prices have now been announced by Nissan ahead of the new Micra's launch with the entry-level Visia model costing £11,995, while customers opting for the all-singing, all-dancing top of the range Tekna versions can expect to pay from £17,295.

Buyers of the all-new Micra can expect a lot more for their money in terms of technology and safety features – as well as trendy, altogether sharper styling.

The SUV onslaught on Europe's roads gathers pace with the imminent arrival of the all-new Peugeot 5008 which follows on from the recently launched 3008.

The 5008 is basically a seven seat version of the 3008 and it comes with a range of powerful and efficient petrol and diesel engines and trim levels – including sporty GT Line and GT versions – will be available when it goes on sale in the spring.

Features include Peugeot's i-Cockpit with its compact steering wheel, a large eight-inch touchscreen dashboard and a 12.3-inch high-resolution digital head-up display.

The new Suzuki Ignis is a small family hatch disguised with hints of beefy off-roader, or what the trade calls a crossover. Building it a bit taller than normal means more room inside, especially in the back, where a six-footer can sit comfortably behind his twin brother.

All five versions of the Ignis, with prices from £9,999 for the SZ3, use the same 1.2-litre 90 horsepower petrol engine, although a couple are available with a modest boost from a small generator helping the car during acceleration.

Citroen's new C3 comes with its own version of the bodyguarding Airbumps first seen on the C4 Cactus and is again they're the standout feature.

Three levels of trim are available – Touch, Feel and Flair and the C3 costs from £10,995 for a Touch version with 68 horsepower three-cylinder 1.2-litre petrol engine. The same engine with more power (110 horses) is joined in the range by a couple of 1.6-litre diesels with 75 and 100 horsepower and costing from £13,295.

The new Kia Rio – the fourth generation of the Korean company's global top seller – will be on the road soon.

It's bigger than before and will be available only as a five door model. Kia claims the new Rio offers more space inside than any other compact hatch on the market and boot space is 325 litres. The new Rio will be available with a variety of engines including Kia's new 1.0-litre turbo petrol and a 1.4-litre.

Toyota's new C-HR is a car made very much for today's buyers, which means it's a crossover, mixing 4x4 looks, built a bit higher than a hatch and infused with machismo.

The C-HR range starts at £20,995 for an Icon grade C-HR with 1.2-litre petrol engine, manual gearbox and front wheel drive. That package gives you dual zone automatic air conditioning, 17-inch alloy wheels, a touchscreen and auto wipers and self-dipping rear view mirror.

Essex County Council

(Pollard Hatch, Harlow)

(Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2017

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close that length of Pollard Hatch, in the District of Harlow from its junction with Kingsmoor Road south west for a distance of approximately 30 metres.

The closure is scheduled to commence on 27 February 2017 for twelve days or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting.

The closure is required for the safety of the public and workforce while gas works in the middle of the road are undertaken.

The alternative route will be via Pollard Hatch, Greygoose Park, Kingsmoor Road, and vice versa.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 27 February 2017 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.

Liz Burr, Head of Network Management, County Hall, Chelmsford

Planning Application

Town and Country Planning Act 1990 (As Amended) Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order 2015 (As Amended) Notice Under Article 15

Town and Country Planning

(Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 2011

Notice is hereby given that Essex County Council is seeking planning permission for the construction of a new motorway junction (Junction 7a) on the M11 between existing junctions 7 and 8, to be located approximately 6km north of existing Junction 7, to the north of Moor Hall Road/Matching Road crossing and to the south of Sheering Village and the proposed construction of a new link road and roundabout to link the proposed Junction 7a to Gilden Way (B183) and Sheering Lower Road, to the north-east of Harlow Town in the district of Epping Forest. Proposed widening and road improvements to Sheering Road and Gilden Way (B183) from the proposed new Sheering Road roundabout to the London Road Roundabout, located within the district of Harlow - CC/EPF/08/17. The site is situated adjacent to Old Harlow Conservation Area and Churchgate Street Conservation Area.

The proposal may affect the setting of the following Listed Buildings List Entry No.

London calling for injury-free Osagie

Harlow runner eyes World Championships spot

By Andrew Franczak

andrew.franczak@hertsessexnews.co.uk

LONDON 2012 Olympian Andrew Osagie says he has put the nightmare of injuries behind him and is ready to return to the capital this summer bidding for glory at the World Athletics Championships.

The Harlow Athletics Club runner, who is based in the USA where he trains with Oregon AC, marked his return to the track with an impressive display in the 800m at the Muller Indoor Grand Prix meeting in Birmingham.

Osagie was at the back of the field for most of the race, but showed a great turn of pace in the finishing straight to narrowly miss out on fifth place in a close finish.

He clocked a season's best of 1min 47.02sec in a fast race won by American Casmir Loxsom in 1:46.14, with GB's Kyle Langford in third (1:46.79) and Guy Learmonth fifth (1:47.00).

While 28-year-old Osagie registered a qualifying time for the European Indoor Athletics Championships in Belgrade next month, he hasn't been selected, with Langford and Learmonth getting the nod.

"I want to concentrate on outdoors – it's a big year for me, with the home World Championships," said Osagie.

"I just needed to come out here to Birmingham to get used to everything – the crowd, how long my warm up is and sitting in the call room and knowing that I'm ready when I come out.

"This is one of my favourite tracks – indoors or out – in the world, I love it here.

"It's been three years since I raced here last. I've missed it and I'm glad to be back.

"I've had great support from my fiancé [Emily Pidgeon, the 2005 European Junior Champion at 5000m] my family and friends as well as sponsors Nike.

"They have all been so supportive while I've been injured and it's good to be back."

Osagie was clearly relieved to be injury free.

Surgery

"I've had tears in my hamstring and scarring which led to surgery," he recalled.

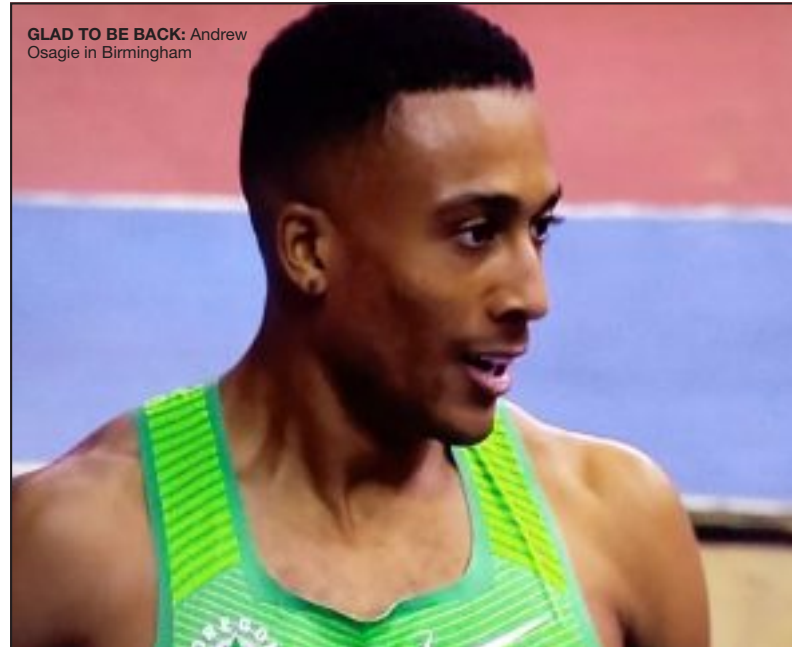

"I was actually running really well last summer coming into Olympic year but I picked up a calf tear before I was supposed to race in Birmingham at the trials.

"So that season was a right-off. I've also had an Achilles problem but I'm over that now.

"I'm training hard, but still only at about 80 per cent – but I'm doing that so I don't get injured, and at least I'm running to some sort of level now.

"I've changed my whole set up now – I spend a lot of time out in America in Eugene and that's been amazing.

"I'm really happy – things are going well.

GLAD TO BE BACK: Andrew Osagie in Birmingham

"Indoors is just about getting in the rhythm of things – then it's all about the summer.

"I don't want to speak too soon, but it's kind of nostalgic to go back to London thinking about 2012 it was the last time I stepped on that track.

"I've been injured every Grand Prix [staged at that stadium] after that, so to go back it would be almost be poetic if I could make the GB team for the World Championships."

Late strikes deny Hawks a fine victory

HARLOW Town have now gone three matches without a win after an eventful 2-2 draw at home with Folkestone Invicta on Tuesday.

The Hawks were leading 2-0 in the 88th minute but two late goals meant Danny Chapman's side only took a point from the match.

Harlow now sit in ninth place in the Ryman Premier and have not won a league match since their 2-0 victory at Staines Town at the start of the month.

Chapman's men took the lead on 17 minutes when Alex Read sprinted onto a ball down the right flank, and sent a great delivery across the goal for Junior Dadson to score.

Both sides had chances to score, but it was the home side who doubled their advantage.

Read was this time the goalscorer after he picked up the ball 25 yards from goal, and hit an effort straight into top corner catching Folkestone keeper Tim Roberts off guard to make it 2-0.

Then, the away side turned the game on its head with two goals in two minutes.

Euan Sahadov scored from close range with two minutes remaining after some great work from Ashley Miller.

Invicta completed the dramatic comeback when Miles Cornwell equalised deep into stoppage time.

The Hawks will be hoping to bounce back against their opponents when they face them again this Saturday.

At the weekend, Harlow suffered their tenth away defeat of the season when they lost 1-0 to relegation threatened Merstham.

There were a limited number of chances in the game as both keepers were rarely tested.

Dan Hector had the hosts' first chance blazing over from close range.

Hector was the biggest threat for the Harlow defence, and was denied by keeper David Hughes after being put through on goal.

Khale Costa had the first chance for the visitors on 37 minutes, but his shot was straight at the keeper.

The home side scored in the 62nd minute when Alex Addai drilled home a low shot into the bottom corner.

Harlow tried to reply but the final ball was lacking to create any clear-cut opportunities and the hosts took all three points.

Harlow lose out in battle of the division's top two WANSTEAD produced an impressive second half performance to overcome Harlow 31-12 in their top of the table clash.

The defeat means Harlow are now second in the London Three North East table, two points behind Wanstead.

However, the promotion race is still in their hands as they have a game in hand on Wanstead.

Third-placed East London still have to play both the top two sides, and are just five points behind Harlow, meaning these games are likely to have a big impact on the title race.

Both sides matched each other for the first 15 minutes, with much of the play in midfield.

But the hosts took the lead after 16 minutes when their winger was given space and a couple of missed tackles allowed him to score in the corner.

The conversion was missed, however.

Harlow replied very quickly with a piercing run by number eight Kain Claridge, ripping through Wanstead's defence and setting up Ryan McGlone, who scored under the posts allowing Ross Stalley to convert.

Wanstead hit back again with a converted try, but the visitors completed a frantic 14 minute spell with their second try soon after.

Mark Twiner got clean ball to the Harlow back line from a line-out and they quickly spun it out to Dale Stalley to score.

The conversion was not successful meaning the teams went into the break level at 12-12.

Although things had gone well for Harlow in the first half they started the second with key players Claridge and open side flanker Michael Weston both carrying injuries.

Wanstead struck early in the half by scoring their third try and converting it.

Harlow battled hard and continued to try to fight their way back into the game, but two further Wanstead tries made the final score 31-12.

Harlow now have a week off before hosting bottom of the table Ilford Wanderers on Saturday March 4.
